Maria Edmonds-Zediker is an independent financial advisor affiliated with Foothill Securities, Inc. With a background of nearly fifteen years in the banking industry, working in business development, operations and branch management, she had an opportunity to make a career change to financial planning. She joined Waddell & Reed in 1999, taking a position as financial advisor. In this position, Maria could focus more closely on working with individual clients and small businesses. Maria obtained her Certified Financial Planner designation in 2006. She became an independent advisor in early 2007. Her areas of expertise are retirement planning and college funding.

Maria serves on the Board of Directors for the Santa Clara Chamber of Commerce, and is an active Ambassador with the Chamber. She received the Pyramid Award for Outstanding Individual Member for 2004-05 and the Ambassador of the Year award for 2007-08.

In addition, Maria is an active member of Beta Sigma Phi (an international women's service organization) and serves on the Advisory Board to the Finance Academy at Independence High School in San Jose. She has taught financial courses through the Santa Clara Adult Education program and regularly volunteers in the Santa Clara Unified School District Choices program for middle school students.

And, if that doesn't keep her busy enough, she's a wife, a mother of one and grandmother of three little redheads!
